1.0 Results Update (6 February 2023)

Favorable Startup

On 3 February 2023, SHOFU, developing, manufacturing and selling dental materials & equipment, released its Q1 to Q3 FY03/2023 results. It has been revealed that sales in the Middle East have started to pick up favorably as those of India having had done so since a bit earlier. Combined with this, sales overseas benefited from yen's depreciation over the same period of the previous year, having achieved a high growth. Meanwhile, sales in Japan have increased steadily due mainly to strengths of CAD/CAM-related products, which are encouraging the digitization of dental care. For the Company as a while, sales increased by 13.0%, while sales overseas increased by 19.0% and sales in Japan by 6.5%. At the same time, sales overseas increased by 5.4% on a local currency basis. With respect to sales in North Americas and Europe, the Company suffers from one-off negative factors in each (as found in our Company Report below), but sales are buoyant in "Asia, Oceania, etc." or a region defined by the Company. With respect to China, accounting for more than half of sales here, the Company suggests that it has secured an increase in sales despite the impact of Corona disaster. Meanwhile, the Company has been seeing favorable startup of sales in India where it has newly set up a local sales office. With respect to the Middle East, sales have started to pick up favorably after the Company's measure to make a shift to strengthening of local sales capability from sales via its sales office based in Singapore.
